Canadian Cancer Action Network (CCAN) Membership Online Survey FAQ

Who is eligible to complete the survey?

We invite the input of staff, leaders, members and volunteers from the Canadian Cancer Action Network member organizations to participate.

What will my participation mean to both CCAN and my organization?

Your feedback will help CCAN and our partners learn more about the priorities and perspectives of the patient and caregiver community and, where feasible, to consider those factors in our respective work.

Why should I participate?

Your input is influential. You will help the Canadian Cancer Action Network better understand our member needs, and your participation will provide our partners with meaningful information. In appreciation for your time, respondents who self-identify will receive a summary report of key findings of the survey by July 30, 2016.

Why are other organizations involved?

The Canadian Cancer Action is pleased to work with our partners to identify synergies, promote integrated action and explore meaningful patient and caregiver deliberative engagement. We believe that by a collaborative approach will provide important data for each of the partners to consider.

What can I expect to see in the survey?

We are seeking your thoughts on a number of different areas including member services, priority areas for 2016-2017, areas of interest and perspectives on health care system and delivery, to name a few.

How often are members asked to participate in type of outreach?

The Canadian Cancer Action Network reaches out to the membership every two years. This year, we included broader questions to help inform the work of our members.

How long will the survey take to complete?

We anticipate it will take between 15-20 minutes to complete.

When will I learn of the key findings?

We look forward to highlighting the results in a summary report, as well as a scheduled webinar (August 2016) and during the 2016 Canadian Cancer Action Network Annual General Meeting/Membership and Stakeholder Engagement Meeting in September 2016.
